Clicks to genuine leads

PPC Guru launched Blockline Physiotherapy & Wellness on Google Ads with call and lead-form tracking in place, and the clinic's first full months produced about 13 genuine phone and form leads a month at roughly $56 each — with genuine enquiries counted separately from Google Business Profile map actions and booking-button clicks.

About the Client

Blockline Physiotherapy & Wellness is a physiotherapy and wellness clinic serving patients in the Kitchener–Waterloo area of Ontario, Canada. The clinic provides hands-on physiotherapy and related wellness care, and depends on a steady flow of new-patient enquiries — phone calls and online contact requests from people searching for treatment nearby. Google Ads is the clinic's channel for reaching those high-intent local searchers, which makes clean measurement of calls and form submissions important from the very first month.

How the Account Came to PPC Guru

Blockline Physiotherapy & Wellness partnered with PPC Guru in spring 2026 to launch its Google Ads presence. As a fresh build, the priority was a focused local Search campaign paired with proper conversion tracking, so the clinic could see genuine phone and form enquiries rather than vanity map actions.

The Challenge

As a brand-new Google Ads account, the clinic had no history to build on and had to establish genuine local demand from a standing start. A further challenge was measurement clarity: most of the account's recorded activity is Google Business Profile map actions and booking-button clicks, which can badly overstate results if counted as leads. Isolating true phone and form enquiries was essential to report honestly and to steer bidding correctly.

What We Analyzed & Planned

PPC Guru built the account around a single local Search campaign for Kitchener and set up call tracking (ads and website), lead-form conversions, and clear separation of genuine leads from Google Business Profile local actions. That separation matters: the raw account activity is dominated by directions, website visits and booking-button clicks, so counting only real calls and forms keeps the numbers honest from day one.

- Launch a single, focused local Search campaign targeting Kitchener–Waterloo.
- Set up call tracking for both ad calls and website calls to the clinic line.
- Add lead-form conversions for online contact requests.
- Separate genuine calls and forms from Google Business Profile local actions and booking-button clicks so reporting reflects real enquiries.

What PPC Guru Did & Why

Focused local Search campaign	Concentrated budget on high-intent physiotherapy searches in Kitchener–Waterloo.
Call tracking (ads + website)	Captured phone enquiries — the primary way patients reach a clinic — as measurable conversions.
Lead-form conversions	Tracked online contact requests alongside calls.
Genuine-lead separation	Excluded map directions, website visits and booking-button clicks so reporting reflects real enquiries, not vanity actions.
Maximize Conversions bidding	Let bidding optimize toward genuine calls and forms as early data accumulated.

The Launch Timeline

- May 2026 PPC Guru launch — local Search campaign live with call and lead-form tracking; first full month delivered about 12 genuine leads.
- Jun 2026 About 14 genuine leads at roughly $53 each as targeting settled — the clinic's strongest month so far.
- Jul 2026 Current in-progress month at time of reporting; genuine-lead totals still finalizing as call and offline imports settle.

Gradual Improvement, Month by Month

In its first full month (May 2026) the account produced about 12 genuine leads, then grew to about 14 in June at a lower cost per lead as targeting settled — a healthy early trajectory for a brand-new clinic account. July is the current in-progress month, with genuine-lead totals still finalizing as call and offline imports settle, so the story is best confirmed once the next full quarter completes.

Results

Metric	First month (May 2026)	Latest full month (Jun 2026)	Change
Genuine leads (calls + forms)	12	14	▲ Growing
Cost per lead	≈ $60	≈ $53	▼ Lower
Conversion rate	≈ 15%	≈ 13%	Strong for a new account

Figures cover the clinic's first three months on Google Ads, so this is an early launch snapshot rather than a long-run trend. Genuine leads count only real phone calls and form submissions — the account's map actions and booking-button clicks (which run far higher) are excluded.

Lead quality: Almost all genuine leads in the opening months are direct phone calls to the clinic's Kitchener line — the highest-intent enquiry type for physiotherapy.

Why It Worked

- ✓ Call and lead-form tracking was in place from the first day of spend.
- ✓ Budget was concentrated on high-intent local physiotherapy searches.
- ✓ Genuine leads were separated from vanity map actions, keeping reporting honest.
- ✓ Early cost per lead improved as targeting settled.

Lessons for Clinic Owners

- 1 Count real calls and form submissions — not map directions or booking-button clicks — so early results are honest.
- 2 Set up call tracking before launch; in a clinic, most enquiries come by phone.
- 3 Start with one focused local Search campaign to concentrate budget and data.
- 4 Give a new account a full quarter before drawing firm conclusions.
- 5 Keep the search terms clean early so budget reaches treatment-intent searches.

Where They Stand Today

In its opening months on Google Ads, Blockline Physiotherapy & Wellness is generating about 13 genuine phone and form enquiries a month at roughly $56 each, with a strong early conversion rate and clean measurement that separates real leads from map actions. This is an early launch snapshot on a young account; PPC Guru's recommended next step is to let the account complete a full quarter and re-confirm the trend before scaling budget.

All figures are pulled directly from the client's Google Ads account and shown on a monthly basis. 'Genuine leads' are phone calls and lead-form submissions only; Google Business Profile local actions and booking-button clicks are excluded. The account has only three months of history (May–Jul 2026), so this is an early launch snapshot and July is treated as still settling.
